The indications are that the silver Republicans, and there were many of them, voted the Democratic ticket straighter than the Democrats themselves.

In the city the Republicans both scratched and stabbed. It is alleged that there were trades and dickers made which helped to enlarge the disaster to the party. There was a cross-fire be-tween the factions that was very damag-ing. If all the boys acted loyal towards one another the best Republican ticket ever placed before the people of this county would have been elected. It is probable that when the returns are all in it will be found that Bryan has tarried the city. If such will prove true this is the first time in its history that Wichita gave its vote to a Democratic cardidate for president. He carried two of the three precincts in that Gibraltar of Republicanism, the Fourth ward. This is a gain of about 80 votes in two years for the party of calamity. There are, in reality, more Republicans in Wichita today than ever before, but unfortunately they are divided and being somewhat disgusted with one another, they threw their strength to the enemy.

It is not improbable that Leedy will carry the city, although the friends of Governor Morrill claim he will carry it by about 150. He carried it two years ago by 1,200. It can be seen that Morrill was hadly scratched.

Ita were election returns watched so closely as they were last night. In front of the Eagle office, the street was blockaded by people, so that it was simply impossible for private carriages or electric cars to pass, and it was a good half hour's hard work for a first-clare football player to get through the great mass of people. The crowd extended from the curb in front of the Eagle office, across the street, and were standing in a solid mass clear to the large plate-glass win-dows on the north side of the street. The breadth of the great crowd of peele extended up and down the avenue as far as the builetins could be read.

its efficiency and effectiveness is unpar-alleled. Many other places in the city received election returns but none of them had the facilities nor the great masses of interested citizens which the Eagle had, not only before the office in the street, and in the city surrounding the street, and in the city surrounding and the surrounding country whose people watched the rocket code. Besides this the Eagle was conected by long distance telephone with all the outlying towns who received returns from the office by this means, one person's time being returns this means, one person's time being returns the street with those who give themselves a shaking now and then and look plainly at what they are doing. Last night about 8 o'clock a fire alarm was turned in and the departments responded quickly to the rear of Ross Bros coal office where are their coal sheds, and were compelled to run south on Market street to William and then go west, because of the great crowd in front of the Eagle office on the avenue. Water was turned upon the blaze, but one of the large pieces of hose bursted because of a kink in one of the sections. This was quickly uncoupled and the bursted piece taken out and soon water was thrown upon the blaze. The shed was almost completely destroyed, as was a small amount of hay and some coal, otherwise no damage was done

The desert team is the longest in the world, and the percentage of deaths among the horses is greater than that of domestic animals used in any other calling. Forty to 60 horses are often hitched to one of the lumbering ve hicles in which the borax is slowly dragged across the sun-baked alkali plains. The average life of even the sturdiest horses used in this work is six months, for in this length of time greeted the Lady Minstrels at the Auditorium last night, and by the applause given the different players it is dust of the desert or are driven crazy dust of the desert or are driven crazy by the frightful heat.

A man there, though protected by the wagon awnings from the sun's rays, cannot go an hour without water without danger of death. When a team breaks down and the water supply becomes depleted, the men ride on at top speed for the nearest source of supply, and often when they return they find that the remaining horses, made mad by thirst, have broken from the harness and dashed off only to find death in the

The borax wagons weigh 8,000 pounds and carry 20,000 pounds at a load. Behind each wagon is a tank containing hundreds of gallons of water. The horses are harnessed in pairs, the trained ones in the lead, and the next in intelligence just ahead of the tongue, holds in his right hand.

Curious Mental Fear.

"A man who has ridden on horseback for many years," said a physician "doesn't quickly lose his feeling of uncertainty as to what his steed is going to do in an emergency after he has taken to riding a bleyele. I had a curious illustration of this. I was riding my wheel up the boulevard when I met a big steam roller at Ninety-second street. Horses that will rub noses against a moving train will shy at a steam roller for some unknown reason Horsemen recognize steam rollers at things to be avoided at any cost. Now I have been riding a wheel for a year but as soon as I saw that roller coming down the boulevard I instinctively turned my wheel into a side street to avoid it. For the mement I felt that I was in danger of being thrown. Then ! realized the advantage that a wheelman has over a horseback rider when it comes to steam rollers, and I turned around and rodo past this particular roller with great satisfaction."—Chica-20 News.
